

Anti-Vaccine or Mitochondrial Protection

An American political expose (i have no idea what that means but it sho sounds good, huh?)

Anthony M. Antonacci NMD, CSCS, DC, FASBE

I do not know one person that is anti-vaccine, to include this author. Not one.

Not me, not Robert F. Kennedy, Jr., not Barbara Loe Fischer, not Andrew Wakefield, MD, not Sherry Tenpenny, DO, etc.

I know no one that writes on vaccines, like myself, that is anti-vaccine.

What I do know is that we are all concerned with the health of the Mitochondria which your MD, DO & ND, have completely ignored in this conversation and which vaccines damage. The Mitochondria are the bacterial powerhouses of your cells. There are approximately 1000 Mitochondria per cell and they move in and out of those cells. Life begins and ends with the health of the Mitochondria. They are crucial in the maintenance of the all forgotten IMMUNE SYSTEM that has become such an annoyance to the disease management practitioners that prescribe pharmaceutical prescriptions to include the all new, ND which is anything close to being a natural medicine doctor.

Most, if not all disease processes present as a secondary clinical manifestation of Mitochondrial dysfunction. Prescription medications are now known to be the number one killer of the source of life, your Mitochondria, which is why we are seeing an alarming rate in the rise of all disease, globally.

Dysfunctional Mitochondria = Disease

Since the Affordable Care Act, we have seen a startling and frightening rise in prescriptions with the resultant rise in all disease particularly neurodegenerative diseases and auto-immune diseases. In essence, your well-meaning MD, DO and ND, are creating these diseases. That is termed Iatrogenic or doctor induced disease.

The notion of vaccines has been quite a noble effort, which I support, however a true academic dialogue and investigation into efficacy and safety is not being allowed or being conducted.

The conversation that needs to take place is the following, “ what do the components in a vaccine do to the health of the Mitochondria and as an ultimate result, to the health of the human?” The answer is the toxic chemical soup in the vaccine you just had injected into your child’s arm or yours is suffocating the Mitochondria causing an APOPTOSIS event in which the Mitochondria die, which will at some point, create a chronic disease process, which is what we are seeing globally.

If you don't read anything in this essay, read the following. It will provide you a better understanding of where cancer comes from as well as most disease.

Let us unwrap that APOPTOSIS event for you. Apoptosis is a genetically directed process of cell destruction that is marked by the fragmentation of nuclear DNA, is activated either by the presence of a stimulus or removal of a suppressing agent or stimulus, is a normal physiological process eliminating DNA damage and when halted (as by genetic mutation) may result in uncontrolled cell growth and tumor formation – also called cell suicide or programmed cell death.

The Mitochondria go thru a process of apoptosis when attacked or suffocated. If gone unchecked for years, uncontrolled DNA mutations occur and disease and metastasis happens. The protection of the Mitochondria and the well being of the Mitochondria then become paramount in disease prevention and the maintenance of health. That is the source of your Cancer, your Parkinson's, your MS, your auto-immune diseases, etc, etc, etc.

The problem? Have you ever heard your Allopathic MD, DO or ND discuss this process with you and their specific protocols to resuscitate the Mitochondria? If you answered yes, you're either very fortunate or you are lying. The later would be the most probable answer. The last time your well-meaning disease management Allopath doctor heard the word Mitochondria was in a college biology class.

I do know plenty of intelligent Americans that do their due diligence and inform themselves thoroughly prior to making a decision and consenting to all medical procedures to include the administration of vaccines. I know plenty of Americans that can critically think. Which brings us to the crux of this vaccine debate. Would you simply follow instructions to submit, obey and conform to whatever you are told? Even in view of facts that would sway one away from what could be considered suspect or even dangerous? Would you consent to the amputation of your child's left leg or yours, if absolutely nothing was wrong with it, because you were mandated by law to have the leg removed?

You see, there is a difference in if you "think" you need to have a bowel movement and remove yourself to the appropriate evacuation station or you simply need to lift a cheek, stay put, and relieve yourself of slight gas unbeknownst to the unsuspecting dinner guest. A big difference. You need to think through that or you just might embarrass yourself in public, huh? Well with vaccines, it could mean the difference between life and death, couldn't it?

What has occurred with this contentious debate surrounding vaccines is that the debate has been shut down by the media and more importantly by the vaccine makers that continue to throw up bought and paid for so-called studies that prove the junk science of vaccines. And as soon as one questions the validity of vaccines, they are branded anti-vaxxer and the conversation is over. That is called bullying at its best and Merck, et al and their bought and paid for courtesans like Paul Offit have perfected that quelling of intelligent dialogue.

Why would anyone want to quash a debate unless there was something to hide? Actually, they can no longer hide as the CDC has come out and admitted MMR data was purposefully skewed to hide the fact that autism rates climbed after MMR administration. That is fact.

Being very pro-vaccine, I know the idea of vaccines is noble and sound and I support it, wholeheartedly. The "idea". Regrettably, in practice, if anyone suggests vaccines are the reason some diseases declined or were eradicated, they would be stating an erroneous myth. It is simply just not true. You can refer back to my other vaccine essays where I show the decline or eradication of certain diseases were due to better sanitation, hygiene and clean water and those same diseases were well on the decline prior to the introduction of the vaccine. That data and tables are in rich supply all over the web and in books written with factual information.

I still remain pro-vaccine. How can that be one might ask? Apparently I am a hopeless romantic that even though I live the failures and corruptness of governmental Allopathic MD, DO and ND care daily with patients, I still want to believe they really care about us. They don't. Their systems are about the money just like everything else today to include vaccines on a scale never seen before. Vaccines are now the golden goose of the pharmaceutical industry well beyond chemotherapy, bringing billions of dollars each year.

"Each time my nurse gives a vaccine, there is an average insurance reimbursement of somewhere around $12-$14. If you're giving two vaccines, it is double that or in other practices where they are giving six different vaccines for a two month old, multiply $12-$14 times six and then you multiply that by all those recurring visits. It is a huge money maker for Pediatricians even though they do not like to admit it. Most pediatricians would never survive without the substantial income that comes from vaccines."

-Paul Thomas, MD
Allopathic Pediatrician

Many pediatric group practices could have tens of thousands of children as active patients. So, let us just do some rough math and estimate the monthly income from vaccines on the low side. Many group practices with multiple doctors could see upwards of over 200 patients or more per day. As an example, let's just say there are only 100, getting at least just two vaccines at let us just say $26. 100 patients times $26 equals $2,600 per day just off vaccines. My friends, I am being extremely conservative as that number is much higher. Now, multiply that 2600 by 6 days a week because most groups need to be open 6 days per week and many are open 7 days per week.  $$2,600 \times 6 \text{ days} = $15,600$ . Now multiply that by 4 weeks and the magic number is $62,000 per month. Now multiply that number by 12 months and vaccines will bring in the pediatrician $748,000 per year in just vaccine sales alone. In reality the number is nearly double that so I will write it so you will clearly understand why your pediatrician and their nurses and aids brow beat you when you refuse vaccines.

$1,497,600 for simply injecting a chemical toxic soup into your arm they won't even do to their own children. Believe it.

And, I still remain very pro-pharmaceutical industry because they have provided outstanding benefit to humanity in some areas. In other areas, such as vaccines, the chemicals in the vaccine have mostly been proven to be carcinogenic as well neurodegenerative. And the "parts per billion" concept of a toxic chemical that is knowingly and admittedly put in the vaccine and then stated that "although a toxic chemical and known to cause cancer, it is not in significant levels to be harmful", is interesting. If it is a toxic chemical, it is toxic and harmful. Eventually, the cumulative toxic load of eating that toxin or having it injected will cause the problem. It does not always happen overnight.

Vaccine makers are protected from lawsuits due to adverse reactions, and the law that protects them was passed a long time ago by the help of Donna Shalala who worked for President Clinton. She protected them against any lawsuits and that is why you see them coming out with a vaccine for hang nails, obesity, hair loss, wrinkles, warts and a host of other unbelievable maladies that have never killed or maimed anyone. Vaccines coming out each day with no safety or efficacy studies and that are fast tracked by the FDA. It has become all about the money and not the benefit or protection of you, the consumer.

We are continually and subtly being divided by media. We have become insignificant to each other and certainly to those that run our governments that see us as simple annoyances and not living, breathing people. And now they are using vaccines to de-populate the globe and sterilize your children and change your sexual orientation and create gender confusion so you do not procreate. Don't think so? Let me ask you these simple questions.....

If their Allopathic MD system of disease management instead of disease prevention and health maintenance worked, then why are all diseases increasing with a bullet on the chart of your heart while you pay more and more for less and less? Why haven't the several medications you have been on for 12 years, cured you, yet? Why are they incarcerating you at an alarming rate for benign offenses? Why are you, at 80 years old; still having to work? Why have they allowed the banks to loan shark you at 29% interest and more on our credit cards? Why have they allowed mere children to be used as sex slaves, globally while they genitally mutilate them? Why have they decimated countries for profit and resources while destroying the lives of innocent children and their parents? Why are they allowing our mercenary private army's to rape little boys and girls in front of their parents and then kill them? Who are they? Your lost so called leaders that you blindly trust. Big mistake on your part.

Most cannot answer those questions because most don't think any of that is happening. Ah, the blissful ignorance of an unsophisticated fool as one sits in the comfort of their simple minded myopic world shackled to several dosages of medication per day and the unending doctors appointments to get those scripts re-filled. Nice little gig, huh?

Why should you care if some child was diagnosed with diabetes or chronic inflammatory bowel disease after several rounds of vaccines? Or died from the toxic chemical soup. You should care because it could be your child or you. And it is happening more than you know. The media simply veils it quite nicely from you for the benefit of the vaccine makers.

If vaccines worked and truly provided immunity, then why are there booster shots and why has the CDC and the makers themselves admitted that, at best, the vaccines could only, at best provide 2-5 years of immunity if they even do which they don't?

If childhood vaccines provided lifetime immunity, which the CDC and makers "now" say they don't, why are they creating an adult schedule so all of us will be mandated to get all those shots all over again?

We have a 98% vaccine compliance rate nationally in the USA. With that, why are these diseases still rising? Why do we have sensationalized "outbreaks" to instill fear and urgency?

And why are unvaccinated children healthier than vaccinated? Don't think so?

A 2017 pilot study just published in the Journal Of Translational Science by epidemiologists at Jackson State University School of Public Health found that vaccinated children had significantly higher rates of chronic illness and neurodevelopmental disorders. Now what, you might ask? You just might want to start reading, thinking and doing research prior to submitting, obeying and conforming and risking your child's wellbeing and life.

Now, for all of you out there that have bought into media lies that outbreaks are the undocumented as the source of these diseases. Here is a bit of "learnin" for ya'll: The majority of those children are vaccinated because if they don't get vaccinated, mommy gets no benefits. Look up WIC and do ya some learnin. Gosh don't you just love how journalism has morphed and shrunk into Jerry Springer and TMZ horse manure with drone brain dead vanilla wrap, coconuts or oreo's in front of the camera reading a teleprompter?

The majority of unvaccinated children are in the white upper middle class and above socio economic levels. They inform themselves, they read, they question and they don't like the answers because the answers are junk science and lies and they can see right through them.

Now, carry on and make sure you get your flu vaccine.

Otherwise you will die without it. Oh, yes you will because the bought and paid for Allopathic MD shill on the TV said you will.

Here is a little tip for you....

They, and I mean your courtesan politicians, all of them, to include Democrats and Republicans are part of a good ole boys tree house club and you ain't never going to get an invite to their parties. You see, in front of the camera, they fight and argue to get you to think your vote means anything any longer. Behind the camera they party together because they don't want to ruin a good thing they have going for themselves and you will never be a part of it. Many of these people go in paupers and come out multi-millionaires or billionaires. How on earth does that happen, you might inquire? Good question. Why don't you ask them the next time you decide to have an acid flashback and vote for the unprepossessing?

Critical thought.....they destroyed it in the pit of the mundane mediocrity we call education.
