

The New Health Care Scam....the N.D.

What is an N.D.? It is a Naturopathic Doctor. Not to be confused with a classically trained Board Certified Naturopath physician. They, by their own by laws, are not allowed to refer to themselves as “Physicians” because they are not. The problem is that the newly licensed N.D. that was no where on the map 5 years ago sold out to the drug companies and is no better than an MD or DO, Osteopathic Doctor, as the pharmaceutical companies have infiltrated their schools. The N.D. is far from being what you think is a holistic natural doctor. They are the same drug pushers today as the MD and the DO’s are. And at the end of the day, it is all semantics and they could care less about you. They care about the market share. They do not have their own licensing board and must be licensed under the Osteopaths under the Department of Consumer Affairs and only in several states in the US as the MD’s (Medical Physicians) and DC’s (Chiropractic Physicians) refused to accept their sub-standard education. They have no autonomy in diagnosing or prescribing and must be strictly supervised.

A real Naturopathic Doctor would never consider chemotherapy for your cancer or the prescription of any pharmaceutical medication for your condition. Never. And today? They do. Why? Because the new N.D. is handsomely subsidized by Merck, et al and that is the only way they can stay in business unless of course they hire out to Cancer Treatment Centers and pretend that their opinion means anything at $40 per hour. The new N.D. has been bought and paid for. They are quacks. They are not Paavo Airola, ND and the like that were classically trained Naturopaths such as myself that have paved the way for real health care. Most N.D.’s today would not even know who Dr. Airola was. Today’s N.D. is a quack in regard to natural healthcare and a fraud.

And because they have big pharma money behind them, they are now flexing their incompetent muscle and attempting to oust those that provide real and in depth health care. And they are failing, just like the MD’s did. The drug companies own the media; they own the medical schools, the hospitals, the naturopathic schools, the osteopathic schools and your politicians. We are the only country besides New Zealand that advertises pharmaceutical drugs on TV and pushes them in your face 24/7. We are the only country that has 3 drug company lobbyists per politician in Washington DC determining health care policy in this country.

The N.D. is simply the new unsuspecting pawn and the new drug pusher in the game. They were not even licensed until very recently and still are not in most states in the US. They must work under an Allopathic license because they are not duly recognized by states as a reputable health care profession. And the only reason they are now coming on to the stage is because of the American drug company cartel money that fuels them. Until recently no American even knew what an N.D. was and many still don’t. And because they can prescribe and inject, they deceive the public in thinking they are MD’s, which is worse. Do not be fooled by the N.D. that pretends to practice natural medicine. They are no more than an MD or DO and would not know natural medicine from a mammogram.

Once the pharmaceutical companies subsidize your school with their money, your education, your direction, your philosophy, your integrity, your focus, your principals and the very essence of your profession and care changes to benefit the pharmaceutical companies, not us; the consumer and the patient. Naturopathic Doctors have sold their souls to stay alive and now maintain a place in the health care market however are deceiving us, the unsuspecting public that they practice any form of natural health care. The N.D. does not perform any such function. They perform to prescribe for the American drug cartels and the money realized from such prostitution.

Be very clear, the pharmaceutical companies do not want you healthy. They want you sick and shackled to numerous prescription medications for life that you need to refill monthly for their bottom line and they are using the MD, the DO and now the ND as their pawns that feed below the feet of the American pharmaceutical companies and are only willing to sell their souls for their monetary benefit while selling out your health. Welcome to the American health care system and you can thank the Affordable Care Act for that. Where you get less for more. A system that is focused on money to benefit the drug and insurance industries over, "first do no harm". The new N.D. is a quack and fraud practicing allopathic drug disease management with chemotherapy and prescription drugs, at your expense and the demise of your health. The N.D.'s are the epitome of fraudulence and quackery.
